Delay school opening as teachers protest lack of agreement

By BILL WINTER

The start of classes for Granite City students has been postponed for 24 hours, from Tuesday morning to Wednesday morning. An insufficient number of teachers—about 18—reported for a workshop today, Supt. B. J. Davis ruled.

Similar 24-hour postponements are expected if the impasse continues between School District Nine and American Federation of Teachers Local 743. Davis will decide a day in advance whether there will be classes; a decision to delay from Wednesday to Thursday would be made tomorrow morning.

An eight-hour bargaining session was held Friday, ending at 10:30 p.m., and negotiations resumed Sunday afternoon.

At an assembly of teachers Sunday evening at Engelbert Hall, the local's negotiating team said it could not recommend approval of the latest school district offer.

Contract issues were discussed and questions were answered, but no votes were taken. It was left up to each individual teacher whether to report for the fall term, a spokesman said.

Initially, no details were given publicly by either side. Reports indicated there was less discussion of salary issues than of the average class size for the 1983-84 year.

A statement explaining its position was released at 9:30 a.m. today by Local 743 and is included in this article. The local will meet at 7 tonight.

Class size has a direct effect on the size of the faculty, and about 130 teachers have been honorably dismissed for the new school year.

The school district announced Tuesday night it would transfer and hire back a sufficient number of teachers to avoid excessive class sizes. The lack of a precise figure on the number of callbacks was viewed by many teachers as an inadequate reassurance to them.

Supt. Davis and the board have cited

Most schools are opening

Classes will open tomorrow in the Venice and Madison public schools and at the Sacred Heart-St. Joseph, St. Margaret Mary and St. Mary-St. Mark parochial schools.

Madison School Supt. John L. Schelf has announced that teachers will attend a district institute today, with students reporting for a half-day Tuesday at the following times:

Blair, Harris and Louis Baer grade schools 8:40 to 11:40, Middle school 8:30 to 11:30 and Madison High School 8 to 11.

Full-day classes will begin Wednesday at all buildings in both the Madison and Venice schools.

After Venice's teacher workshop today, Venice High School students will report to the cafeteria at 9 a.m. Tuesday for orientation, followed by 30-minute classes and dismissal at 12:15.

Hours tomorrow at Venice Grade School will be 9:30 to 11:30 for kindergarten through third grade pupils and 9:15 to 11:50 for fourth through eighth graders. A district-wide faculty meeting at 1:15 p.m. will be addressed by Supt. Robert Vickers.

The formal opening of the new term at Sacred Heart-St. Joseph is set for 7 tonight with a Mass to be followed by a school open house.

Hours for students will be 8:30 to 10:30 Tuesday, 8:30 to 11:45 Wednesday and Friday (no school at Sacred Heart-St. Joseph, Thursday) and 8:30 to 2:45 as of Aug. 29.

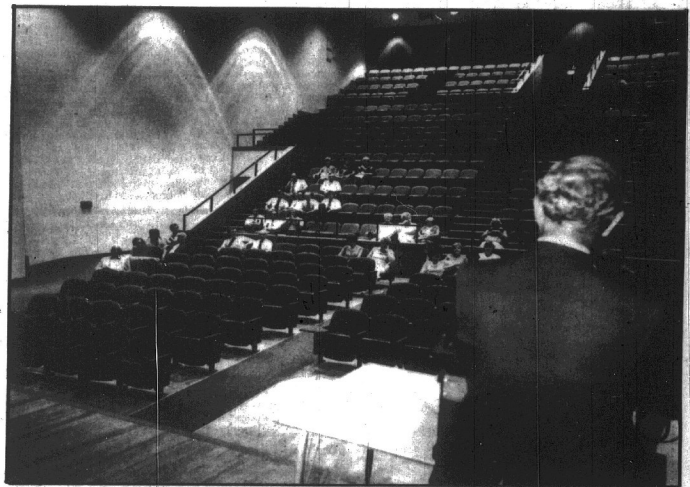

St. Margaret Mary students will attend an 8:10 a.m. Mass, Tuesday, leaving school at 10 a.m. that day. Their Aug. 24, 25 and 26 schedule is 8:10 to 11:45, with the regular 8:10 a.m. to 3 p.m. day starting Aug. 29.

At St. Mary-St. Mark in the Madison-Venice area, pupils will attend from 8 a.m. to noon Aug. 23 through Aug. 26 and 8 to 3:10 beginning Aug. 29.

VOLUNTEER HELP. Members of the Mitchell School Parents and Teachers' Association began construction Saturday on new playground equipment at the school. Above, Fred Woehrl steadies a 4x4 beam while Dean Kern saws the base support for what will soon be a spider rope, one of the several new items planned at the school. PTA members estimate the cost of the project to exceed $4,000, but monetary and material donations are defraying the cost of the project. The project is expected to take three weekends to complete.

TEACHERS DON'T SHOW. Granite City Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis, back to camera, addresses his administrators and the few teachers who attended the scheduled workshop at 8 this morning for District Nine faculty members. About 18 teachers did show up for the workshop, but Davis postponed the beginning of school until at least Wednesday. The teachers' union did not vote on a proposed contract last night.

Close Lansdowne, treat sewage here, EPA urges

The volume of sewage treated at the Granite City Sewage Treatment Plant could greatly increase under a proposal by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency to bring sewage from the Lansdowne Treatment Plant near Sauget into Granite City's primary and secondary sewage treatment facilities. The Lansdowne facility then would be closed.

The possible creation of a regional sewage treatment plan will be discussed at a public hearing at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Sept. 26, at the Madison Fire Station, 1523 Third St., Madison, to solicit citizen input into the planning of the project, which will be funded by the state.

IEPA Director Richard Carlson met with county officials recently to consider the plan, which calls for the Lansdowne Sewage Facilities Planning Area to be abandoned. Municipalities and townships in the regional plan would, instead, build sewers to send wastewater through the county's special service area to the Granite City Wastewater Treatment Facility.

The IEPA favored the proposal because of cost factors and growth potential of communities involved.

The possibility of upgrading Lansdowne, which is in the Metro-East Sanitary District, was one of two alternatives considered by the IEPA. The other was the proposal to send sewage to the Granite City facility.

Improvements at Lansdowne would include adding extra facilities at a cost of about $10.5 million, while the entire regional project would cost about $5.8 million. The state would pay 75 percent of the cost.

The IEPA received the alternative

Fifteen file for 4 school boards

Fifteen filings for board offices were tallied in the first hour today at Belleville Area College and the three local public school districts, including seven candidacies in Granite City.

Filing of petitions will continue until 5 p.m. Monday, Aug. 29.

Mrs. Patricia Bartokas, chairman, and Robert Dintelmeyer filed today for re-election to the Board of Trustees of Belleville Area College. There were no other early-morning filings at BAC.

Madison petitions were submitted by Pres. Sam Dymas, seeking a four-year term, and Frank Eaves, filing four-year and two-year petitions. Eaves will decide later which term length he will seek.

Filing in the Venice school district were Pres. Wilbert Glasper and Jerry Ciclo, four years, and Kirk Gardner and Matthew Meehan, two years.

Candidates filing in the Granite City district so far include four incumbent board members, Pres. Donald Stucke, George Moore, Dewey Melton and Robert Maxwell, each listing four and two years.

Also filing for both four years and two years was Kelly Hogan.

Filing for four years was Donald Gargac, and filing for two years was Bob Braundmeier.

Funding for new garage

The Granite City Town Board has approved a $985,892 budget, including $2,000 to build a garage for township vehicles, and a $395,000 tax levy for the 1983-84 fiscal year, which began March.

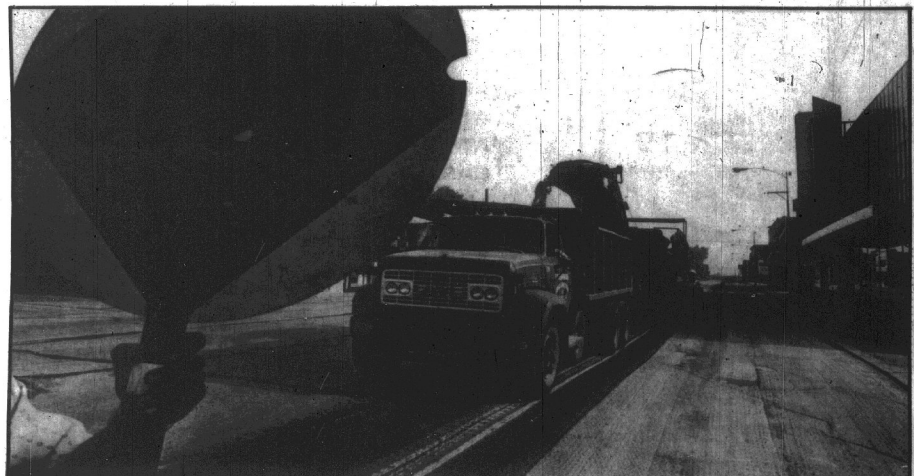

The allocations will go to support the township staff and building, the tax assessor and collections staff, the general assistance program and the township's van transportation service, mainly serving senior citizens.

The city of Granite City and its township share identical boundaries, so city aldermen also serve as town board members. Nelson Hagnauer is the supervisor of general assistance.

The levy — to be raised through property tax bills collected next summer —

SIGN OF PROGRESS. Motorists driving on parts of Madison Avenue will face some inconvenience during the next few weeks as men and machines resurface the roadway from Second Street in Madison to 20th Street in Granite City. A machine which removes the top one-and-one-half inches of pavement passes Fifth Street in Madison late Friday afternoon, preparing the street for a new asphalt surface. The 1.61 miles of resurfacing is being done by Reese Construction Co. of Cahokia.

Schools budget to spend $24 million

The Granite City Board of Education has given tentative approval to a revised 1983-84 budget calling for expenditure of $24,059,663, sharply down from actual 1982-83 spending of $26,944,362.

Final budget action is planned immediately after a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 20 in the board office, 30th and Adams streets.

Preliminary budget action was taken in the late winter to enable the district to borrow two years ahead on real estate tax collections.

Documents disclosed this week show the board is considering a 1983 tax levy of $9,967,723 with a possible rate of $3.45 on each $100 of assessed valuation, same as the actual 1982 rate.

The 1982 levy was $9,373,046, of which $8,917,609 was extended.

It is expected that the district will get $2,751,226 in corporate taxes replacing the former corporate personal property tax, if $347,521 in protests are disallowed. The tax in 1982-83 produced $2,392,283.

The revised budget shows possible income of $23,936,053, including $13,383,946 local, $11,033,346 state and $1,508,761 federal.

Proposed expenditures include $20,150,869 in the education fund, $1,849,699 building fund, $1,425,400 transportation and $624,695 employee retirement.

Photographic exhibit of Vatican art slated

A major photography exhibition entitled "Faces of the Vatican Collections" is open Sept. 25 through Oct. 7 at the National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville.

It will be a photographic display of more than 60 pieces contained in "The Vatican Collections: The Papacy and Art" exhibit currently at The Art Institute of Chicago.

Seven-Up's corporate photographer James T. Van Horn III focuses on the faces in the various works of art in the Vatican Exhibition, showing with depth and clarity the beauty of the art.

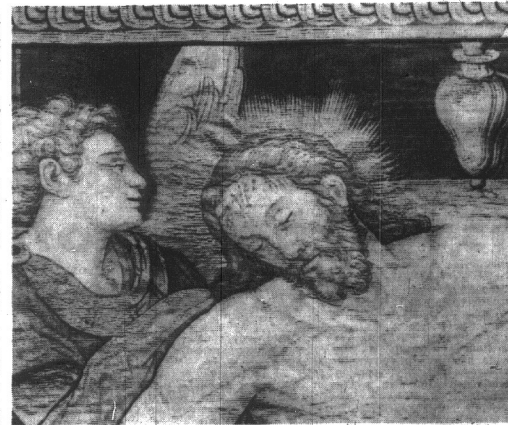

Van Horn is the only U.S. photographer who has had the opportunity to photograph the exhibition in such detail.

Edward W. Frantel, president and chief executive officer of the SevenUp Company, which is sponsoring the showing, called the exhibition, "a breathtakingly beautiful look at great art. The photographs give the viewer such detail and evoke such emotion that in many cases they rival the original art in impact."

Frantel noted that because the photographs are greatly enlarged, the faces of the subjects show intricate artistic detail.

He said that because the national tour will visit only New York, Chicago and San Francisco, 7-Up decided to make the exhibit available to St. Louisans through the photographic exhibition, "Faces of the Vatican Collections."

The exhibition will open to the public Sunday and continue daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. through Oct. 7. Admission is free to the public.

VATICAN ART which will be featured in a photographic exhibit at Our Lady of the Snows in Belleville will include this photo of the Vestments of Clement VIII from an altar front.

The National Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows is located near the intersection of Illinois Routes 157 and 15 in Belleville, about 15 minutes from the Arch.

The photography in the exhibition shows the full range of Vatican art, from Classical and Egyptian antiquity to the 20th Century. The exhibition is arranged to reflect the evolution of the many collections that make up the Vatican museums and to show the development of papal commissions and collecting over the centuries.

By highlighting the faces depicted in the Vatican art, Van Horn has been able to add a further dimension to this monumental collection of art.

Open house at local Montessori School

Montessori School, a non-profit school for all children ages 2½ through sixth grade, is sponsoring an open house for the public on Thursday, Aug. 25, from 7 to 9 p.m. The school is located in the former Stallings School at 4401 Highway 162, east of Route 111.

During the open house, there will be students working in the different areas to demonstrate how the Montessori classroom actually works. A tour also will be given through the different areas to explain their development in the classroom.

The objective of the Montessori approach is to help children develop their fullest abilities at their own individual paces. The children are free to move about the classroom, to talk to other children, to work with any equipment they understand or to ask the teacher to introduce new material to them.

Children are not free to disturb other children at work or to abuse the equipment that is so important to their development.

For further information, interested parents may call the school at 931-2508. Openings are available for enrollment in preschool.

The school is accredited by the Association Montessori Internationale and is registered with the Illinois State Board of Education.

Representatives of the Tri-Cities chapter of the National Organization for Women, at their recent state convention, was instrumental in passing an "IL NOW" resolution recommending that a national Child Support Enforcement Task Force be established to deal with the problem of non-payment of child support.

The Tri-Cities Chapter's Child Support Enforcement Task Force has been investigating federal, state and local laws pertaining to child support and discovered that laws were not being enforced and that the courts and legal system frequently work against women.

School opening delayed

the sixth day of the new term as the time when final decisions would be made on callbacks; until then, large classes would be followed with the help of substitute teachers. However, failure to start the fall term on time will delay the arrival of the sixth day.

Although Local 743 has not said it is on strike, the referral of the decision to individual teachers is similar to a previous instance in which most teachers' services were withheld.

School officials say they have sought to provide reasonable pay and working conditions in the context of the district's multi-million-dollar operating debt.

Six of the 18 schools were closed by the board and other actions were taken in an effort to end an annual negative imbalance between revenue and costs.

By agreeing to numerous callbacks at this time, the district would negate the effect of much of its cost-cutting, some officials feel—not would there be room at the 12 remaining schools to form numerous additional classes, they note.

Teachers throughout the spring and summer have stressed that large classes should be avoided, and have quoted various authorities who say that teaching effectiveness would be reduced if there were too many pupils per classroom.

The Board of Education recessed its meeting Saturday morning until 7 o'clock tonight. All seven board members participated in the 90-minute session, which dealt with negotiations and involved private discussion of contract issues.

Board Member Dewey Melton returned after having undergone major surgery.

Both the administrators and teachers said today that additional negotiations are likely but have not been set specifically.

Supt. Davis will decide on a daily basis whether there is likely to be a faculty present of adequate size to assure pupils' health and safety.

He did not deliver his remarks today on "Optimism" but Alfred Fleishman of Fleishman-Hillard did speak on "Human Communications," saying communications are affected not only by their content but by the manner in which they are presented and other factors.

The teachers who reported for work heard him, as did the district's administrators.

Faculty members were then directed to go to their assigned school buildings to do work related to the new term. Principals will record which teachers qualified to be paid for today.

Local 743 said today that teachers have refused the latest offer from the school district.

"The negotiating team for Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743 have refused the latest offer by the Board of Education."

"Teachers found the offer unacceptable in several areas."

"1. Class size. Teachers had offered to accept a salary freeze if the board would agree in writing to hire teachers to maintain the following class size averages per grade in each building:

"Kindergarten, building average no greater than 33 students. First through fourth grades, no greater than 32. Fourth through fifth grades, no greater than 36."

"For example, the fifth grade at Parkview School currently averages 41, with two classes totaling 82 students. The board has refused to agree to sign;

an agreement to remedy situations like this where the class size is much too great."

"In the event the board refuses to exercise its discretionary power to hire teachers, the union is asking that $400,000 be placed in the salary schedule. This is only if class sizes are not reduced to the aforementioned levels."

"The $400,000 proposal is not desired by the teachers' committee, which is interested in restoring faculty members to maintain class sizes consistent with quality education."

"2. Seniority rights and recall rights. The currently laid-off teachers have, by statute, recall rights for one year."

"Local 743 has asked that these rights be extended contractually to three years. Presently, all of the district's non-certified employees have recall rights which exceed one year."

"This issue is of great importance to the district's teachers. Many of the dismissed teachers have more than 12 years' experience. Some were recruited by the district from other school districts."

"3. Severance pay. The teachers accept the fact that the district is in financial difficulty."

"To this end, the union presented language which would have delayed payment of severance pay for laid-off teachers in return for extended recall rights."

"The savings to the district in 1983-84 by deferring these payments would exceed $400,000. The board has refused."

plans from the engineering firm of Horner and Shultz, Inc., St. Louis.

Some of the cities involved in the regional concept presently are connected to the Landsowne facility, but would use the facility here if the proposal is agreed upon by the communities involved.

The municipalities of Madison, Venice, Brookfield, Caseyville, Fairmont City, Washington Park and National City and the unincorporated areas of Siles and Canteen townships and parts of Venice and Nameoki townships would be affected.

Glen Carbon also has been advised to hook into the regional sewers, which would end debate as to where that village should send its sewage.

A primary beneficiary of the plan, if adopted, would be the county's special service area, which has a capacity of about 25 million gallons of sewage per day, including the Granite City treatment plant. Only a fraction of that capacity is currently utilized, which was a major factor in the IEPA's recommendation of the regionalized plan.

Monthly sewage bills might increase slightly, but IEPA officials said the rate hike would not be dramatic.

Not until all communities and groups involved have been contacted will the IEPA know exactly how much bills will increase. The regional sewers could begin operation within three months, if an agreement is reached among the communities.

IN DUI CHARGE

Henry L. Leonard, 53, of 641 Mercedo Ave., Venice, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and criminal damage to property following an accident at 10:40 a.m. Friday.

Leonard's pickup truck, headed east on Market Street, allegedly struck a building at 100 State St., Venice, knocking out and loosening a 12-foot section of concrete block wall, reports said.

The property is owned by Herman Odell. Leonard was released at 8:40 p.m. Friday after posting a $204 cash bond. He is to appear in the Granite City court Sept. 9.

2,000 begin college

More than 2,000 students have enrolled for the fall 1983 term at the new Granite City Center of Bellevue Area College. Classes began today.

Provost Frank Gornick said those enrolling have signed up for more than 13,500 credit hours.

Late registration will be accepted all this week, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. day through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday.

The 13,500 figure compares with 10,000 credits hours for all three terms in 1982-83, when there were college classes in the day at Washington School and in the night at Granite City High School South.

The new Granite City Center, formerly North High School, has been leased to College District 522. The district describes it as a place "where education, technology and training come together."

The provost said the size of the enrollment is gratifying, and he attributed it to spirit of cooperation which developed within the community and student body.

He added that outstanding college spirit and attitude were noted this morning as students obtained texts at the bookstore, snacked in the cafeteria, hunted for classes and in other ways brought life to the two-year center.

County may waive mobile home tax collection fee

By NANCY WEILL of the Press-Record
Madison County probably will not retain 33 1/3 percent of delinquent mobile home taxes collected from taxing districts because the program to track down back payments has been so successful.

County officials are impressed, and a bit surprised, at the success rate of collecting the taxes and say that the program is on its way to being self-sustaining.

Assistant State Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith said he is fairly certain the county will not have to retain the proposed percentage of delinquent tax collections.

The county proposed retaining part of the delinquent taxes collected to help pay for an office to run the program.

Smith said he is "very optimistic" that the county will not have to retain taxes from the districts. "There's a 90 percent chance we're in the clear," he said.

As of Friday, the treasurer's office had recorded collections of more than $70,000, including $61,000 in delinquent taxes, $7,000 in interest and $3,000 from fees in releasing liens against property.

County officials estimated that up to $700,000 in back taxes could be collected under the plan. However, officials at first were not optimistic about the collection program and expected it to take six months to be self-sufficient.

At the June board meeting, an ordinance was passed establishing an office for collection, although officials said there wasn't any money in the budget to hire personnel to run the office.

The plan to retain part of taxes collected from the districts was then conceived.

Many taxing districts, including several local townships and municipalities, were reluctant to agree to give up one-third of delinquent taxes collected. Some refused to go along with the plan outright, arguing that the county was at fault for not collecting the taxes in the past.

Some mobile home owners have not paid the tax for up to 10 years. In 1973, the Mobile Home Privilege Tax was enacted by the state legislature, but most counties in Illinois have experienced major problems collecting the tax.

Madison County, which is strapped financially, decided to pursue collections and has filed suit against some residents who haven't paid the taxes.

Most mobile home owners in the county have been willing to come forward and pay the delinquent taxes or work out a plan for payment at the treasurer's office.

Smith said that many people read about the county plan to enforce the tax and came forward to pay. He said there still are "bad people" who haven't paid and they will be sued.

Since the plan has worked so well, the county is faced with yet another problem involving distribution of the taxes collected, Smith said.

So far, the county has collected about $60,000 which could be distributed soon to the taxing districts. He said that the problem is determining how much of the various taxing districts should receive because the taxes are from several years back. "That's the biggest problem," he said.

The county data processing department probably will be able to assist the treasurer's office in distribution, he added.

Another problem that county officials had feared was tracking down mobile home owners who had moved from the area without permits. According to the law, a permit must be obtained to move a mobile home from the county.

However, the tax must be paid before the permit can be purchased.

Many mobile home owners would avoid paying the tax by not getting the permit. County officials readily admit that many of those who moved will not be found.

The county does intend to crack down on mobile home owners who move in the future. At last week's board meeting, an ordinance and a resolution were passed to enforce the permit regulation.

The ordinance establishes a $500 penalty for moving a mobile home more than one mile without a permit. Smith said the ordinance was created to provide an incentive for local law enforcement agencies to issue penalties to violators because the fine is paid to the police department making the arrest.

The resolution requests Gov. James Thompson to House Bill 558, which provides that the secretary of state will transfer title to a mobile home unless the tax has been paid."

Passage of the bill would expedite and facilitate the collection of the mobile home privilege tax and reduce the cost of collection, "thus helping all taxpayers in the county," the resolution says.

County officials said they believe the ordinance and the resolution will further assist in collecting the tax in the future.

Smith said present collection of delinquent taxes, as well as current taxes, has been assisted by the county's willingness to work out payment plans with mobile home owners.

Many of the owners are on fixed incomes and expressed concern about having to pay up to ten years of back taxes in one lump sum. County officials went to the various municipalities and townships to explain the plan.

the sixth day of the new term as the time when final decisions would be made on calendars; until then, large classes would be reduced with the help of substitute teachers. However, failure to start the fall term on time will delay the arrival of the sixth day.

Although Local 743 has not said it is on strike, the referral of the decision to individual teachers is similar to a previous instance when most teachers' services were withheld.

School officials say they have sought to propose reasonable pay and working conditions in the context of the district's multi-million-dollar operating deficit.

Six of the 18 schools were closed by the board and other actions were taken in an effort to end an annual negative imbalance between revenue and costs.

By agreeing to numerous callbacks at this time, the district would negate the effect of much of its cost-cutting, some officials feel—nor would there be room at the 12 remaining schools to form numerous additional classes, they note.

Teachers throughout the spring and summer have stressed their belief that large classes should be avoided, and have quoted various authorities who say that teaching effectiveness would be reduced if there were too many pupils per classroom.

The Board of Education recessed its meeting Saturday morning until 7 o'clock tonight. All seven board members participated in the 90-minute session, which dealt with negotiations and involved private discussion of contract issues.

Board Member Dewey Melton returned after having undergone major surgery.

Both the administrators and teachers

said today that additional negotiations are likely but have not been set specifically.

Supt. Davis will decide on a daily basis whether there is likely to be a faculty present of adequate size to assure pupils' health and safety.

He did not deliver his remarks today on "Optimism" but Alfred Fleishman of Fleishman-Hillard did speak on "Human Communications" saying communications are affected not only by their content but by the manner in which they are presented and other factors.

The teachers who reported for work heard him, as did the district's administrators.

Faculty members were then directed to go to their assigned school buildings to do work related to the new term. Principals will record which teachers qualified to be paid for today.

Local 743 said today that teachers have refused the latest offer from the school district.

"The negotiating team for Granite City Federation of Teachers Local 743 rejected the latest contract offer by the Board of Education."

Local 743 said today the offer unacceptable in several areas:

"1. Class size. Teachers had offered to accept a salary freeze if the board would agree in writing to have teachers maintain the following class size averages per grade in each building: "Kindergarten, building average no greater than 23 students. First through third grades, no greater than 32. Fourth through 12th grades, no greater than 36."

"For example, the fifth grade at Parkview School currently averages 41, with two classes totaling 82 students. The board has refused to agree to sign an agreement to remedy situations like this where the class size is much too great."

"In the event the board refuses to exercise its discretionary power to hire teachers, the union is asking that $400,000 be placed in the salary schedule. This is only if the class sizes are not reduced to the aforementioned levels."

"The $400,000 proposal is not desired by the teachers' committee, which is interested in restoring faculty members' non-certified class sizes consistent with quality education."

"2. Seniority rights and recall rights. The currently laid-off teachers have, by statute, recall rights for one year."

"Local 743 has asked that these rights be extended contractually to three years. Presently, all of the district's non-certified employees have recall rights which exceed one year."

"This issue is of great importance to the district's teachers. Many of the dismissed teachers have more than 12 years' experience. Some were recruited by the district from other school districts."

"3. Severance pay. The teachers accept the fact that the district is in financial difficulty."

"To this end, the union presented teachers which would have delayed payment of severance pay for laid-off teachers in return for extended recall rights."

"The savings to the district in 1983-84 by deferring these payments would exceed $400,000. The board has refused."

"Teachers feel they have assumed a reasonable and responsible position. We are waiting to hear from the board and its negotiating team," Local 743 concluded.

County may waive mobile home tax collection fee

By NANCY WEIL of the Press-Record
Madison County probably will not retain 33 1/3 percent of delinquent mobile home taxes collected from taxing districts because the program to track down back payments has been so successful.

County officials are impressed, and a bit surprised, at the success rate of collecting the taxes and say that the program is on its way to being self-sustaining.

Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith said he is fairly certain the county will not have to retain the proposed percentage of delinquent tax collections.

The county proposed retaining part of the delinquent taxes collected to help pay for an office to run the program.

Smith said he is "very optimistic" that the county will not have to retain taxes from the districts. "There's a 90 percent chance we're in the clear," he said.

As of Friday, the treasurer's office had recorded collections of more than $70,000, including $61,000 in delinquent taxes, $7,000 in interest and $1,300 from fees in releasing liens against property.

County officials estimated that up to $700,000 in back taxes could be collected under the plan. However, officials at first were not optimistic about the collection program and expected it to take six months to be self-sufficient.

At the June board meeting, an ordinance was passed establishing an office for collection, although officials said there wasn't any money in the budget to hire personnel to run the office.

The plan to retain part of taxes collected from the districts was then conceived. Many taxing districts, including several local townships and municipalities, were reluctant to agree to give up one-third of delinquent taxes collected. Some refused to go along with the plan outright, arguing that the county was at fault for not collecting the tax in the past.

Some mobile home owners have not paid taxes for up to 10 years. In 1973, the Mobile Home Privilege Tax was enacted by the state legislature, but most counties in Illinois have experienced major problems collecting the tax.

Madison County, which is strapped financially, decided to pursue collections and has filed suits against some residents who haven't paid the taxes.

Most mobile home owners in the county have been willing to come forward and pay the delinquent taxes or work out a plan for payment at the treasurer's office.

Smith said that many people read about the county plan to enforce the tax and came forward to pay. He said there still are "bad people" who haven't paid and they will be sued.

Since the plan has worked so well, the county is faced with yet another problem involving distribution of the taxes collected, Smith said.

So far, the county has collected about $80,000 which could be distributed soon to the taxing districts. He said that the problem is determining how much the various taxing districts should receive because the taxes are from several years back. "That's the biggest problem," he said.

The county data processing department probably will be able to assist the treasurer's office in distribution, he added.

Another problem that county officials had feared was tracking down mobile home owners who had moved from the area without permits. According to the law, a permit must be obtained to move a mobile home from the county. However, the tax must be paid before the permit can be purchased.

Many mobile home owners would avoid paying the tax by not getting the permit. County officials readily admit that many of those who moved will not be found.

The county does intend to crack down on mobile home owners who move in the future. At last week's board meeting, an ordinance and a resolution were passed to enforce the permit requirement.

The ordinance establishes a $500 penalty for moving a mobile home more than one mile without a permit. Smith said the ordinance was created to provide an incentive for local law enforcement agencies to issue penalties to violators because the fine is paid to the police department making the arrest.

The resolution requests Gov. James Thompson to pass House Bill 558, which "provides that the secretary of state will transfer title to a mobile home unless the tax has been paid."

Passage of the bill would "expedite and facilitate the collection of the mobile home privilege tax and reduce the cost of collection," thus helping all taxpayers in the county," the resolution says.

County officials said they believe the ordinance and the resolution will further assist in collecting the tax in the future.

Smith said present collection of delinquent taxes, as well as current taxes, has been assisted by the county's willingness to work out payment plans with mobile home owners.

plans from the engineering firm of Horner and Shifrin, Inc., St. Louis.

Some of the cities involved in the regional concept presently are connected to the Lansdowne facility, but would use the facility here if the proposal is agreed upon by the communities involved.

The municipalities of Madison, Venice, Brookline, Caseyville, Fairmont City, Washington Park and National City and the unincorporated areas of Stiles and Canteen townships and parts of Venice and Nameoki townships would be affected.

Glen Carbon also has been advised to hook into the regional sewers, which would end debate as to where the village should send its sewage: Edwardsville or Granite City.

A primary beneficiary of the plan, if adopted, would be the county's special service area, which has a capacity of about 23 million gallons of sewage per day, including the Granite City treatment plant. Only a fraction of that capacity is currently utilized, which was a major factor in the IEPA's recommendation of the regionalized plan.

Monthly sewage bills might increase slightly, but IEPA officials said the rate hike would not be dramatic.

Arrest 2 in parking area

Joseph M. Rayoum, 18, of 8 Fontainebleau Drive, Pontoon Beach, was charged with resisting arrest and disorderly conduct following an incident in a parking lot in the 1500 block of Madison Avenue at 1:05 a.m. Saturday.

A Granite City officer arrived at the scene and found two Madison policemen wrestling with a man later identified as Joseph Rayoum. The GC officer assisted in handcuffing the suspect.

A second man, Kenneth A. Rayoum, 19, also of the Fontainebleau address, allegedly interfered with the arrest and was charged with obstructing a police officer. The charges on both Rayoums were made in complaints signed by the Madison officers.

Joseph Rayoum was taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for treatment at 2:40 a.m. Saturday and was returned to jail at 4:50 a.m. He was released after posting a $154 cash bond at 12:35 p.m. Saturday.

Kenneth Rayoum was released after posting a $102 cash bond at 3:26 a.m. Saturday.

STOLEN PLANTS
Ten hanging plants, a rubber tree, Christmas cactus and various other plants, together with macramé hangers and flower pots, were stolen from a rear porch at the home of Elsie Foster, 2312 W. 23rd St., she informed police at 6:35 a.m. Saturday. The thief came through a fence to gain access to the porch, she said.

MISHAP RESULTS IN DUPLICATION
Henry L. Leonard, 53, of 641 Mercedia Ave., Venice, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and criminal damage to property following an accident at 10:40 a.m. Friday.

Leonard's pickup truck, headed east on Market Street, allegedly struck a building at 100 State St., Venice, knocking out and loosening a 12-foot section of concrete block wall, reports said.

The property is owned by Herman Oster. Leonard was released at 8:40 p.m. Friday after posting a $204 cash bond. He is to appear in the Granite City court Sept. 9.

2,000 begin college

More than 2,000 students have enrolled for the fall 1983 term at the new Granite City Center of Belleville Area College. Classes began today.

Provost Frank Gornick said those enrolling had signed up for more than 13,500 credit hours.

Late registration will be accepted all this week, from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily through Thursday and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday.

The 13,500 figure compares with 10,000 credit hours for all three terms in 1982-83, when there were college classes in the day at Washington School and in the night at Granite City High School South.

The new Granite City Center, formerly North High School, has been leased to College District 522. The district describes it as a place "where education, technology and training come together."

The provost said the size of the enrollment is gratifying, and he attributed it to a spirit of cooperation which developed within the community and student body.

He added that outstanding college spirit and attitude were noted this morning as students obtained texts at the bookstore, snacked in the cafeteria, hunted for classrooms and in other ways brought life to the two-year center.

New laws benefit veterans

Governor James R. Thompson signed a series of veteran affairs bills early this week that make changes and additions in several areas of state law for Illinois veterans and their families. Four of the bills were sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville).

"No one needs to be told that our veterans should receive every consideration we can give them. These measures cover a wide range of topics for veterans and will give them privileges they've earned and deserve," the governor said.

Thompson announced his action of five bills at a luncheon reception for Illinois veterans at the Executive Mansion. They are:

- House Bill 356, legislation that permits Illinois disabled veterans to camp at and use Department of Conservation parks free of charge.
- House Bill 718, a bill that clarifies which veterans are

Chicago and Senator Vadalabene.

House Bill 781, which allows active members of the Armed Forces who have lived in Illinois for 90 days to begin adoption proceedings, cutting the residency requirement in half. It was sponsored by Representative Michael Slape of Pochontas and Sen. Vadalabene.

—House Bill 356 and 781 take effect Jan. 1, 1984. The others become effective immediately.

eligible to receive special prisoner of war license plates. It was sponsored by Representative Fred Turk of Peoria and Sen. Vadalabene.

—House Bill 246, a measure that will permit the unmarried surviving spouse of a disabled veteran to continue using a homestead property tax exemption even after being remarried to a non-veteran and widowed for a second time. It was sponsored by Representative Lawrence DiPrima of Chicago.

It was sponsored by Representative Gary Hannig of Mount Olive and Sen. Sam Vadalabene of Edwardsville.

—Senate Bill 807, providing free hunting and fishing licenses for veterans who are certified to be at least 10 per cent disabled from service-related injuries or are receiving total disability pensions.

Need funds for more jail cells

We think Governor James Thompson is taking the right approach in spending state money to make more jail cells available. Even though it will require $29 million the state says it doesn't have, keeping dangerous criminals off the streets must be one of the state's top priorities.

"Without approval of this plan, Illinois faces serious and dangerous conditions that not only threaten the safety of the inmates inside correctional facilities, but also threaten the welfare and safety of all Illinois citizens," the governor said in asking the General Assembly for the cash.

In this area, the Linden Building at the Alton Mental Health Center would be converted to a work camp. Inmates would be put to work improving the grounds at the Mental Health Center and for other community improvement projects.

With that project and work camps at Mount Vernon, Hannan, Hardin and Dixon Springs, more than 500 new beds will be available. The state will gain 800 beds from construction at Vienna II, Dwight, Graham, Centralia and Danville. Contracts for county jail beds and out-of-state beds will gain another 170 beds.

As a last resort, and only after the humane and compassionate care of the residents is assured, the state may convert two mental health institutions into prisons at a cost of $35 million each, gaining another 1,000 beds. Elgin, Galesburg and Manteno are being studied for possible conversions from mental health institutions to prisons.

Nothing is more unerving than to hear of dangerous criminals being set loose before they complete their ordered time because of a shortage of jail cells. Judges are concerned that the sentences they order may be superseded by a lack of available cells.

"My highest priority is the safety and welfare of the law-abiding citizens of this state. This program is designed with them in mind and we will work to carry it out for the safety of the residents of Illinois," Thompson said.

We back Gov. Thompson's efforts and encourage the legislature to find the funds, even if it means putting off some other projects for a year.

Flexibility key to keeping plant

Swift Independent Corp., operator of several meat processing plants including the one at National City, has announced that it is closing a plant in Sioux City, Iowa, and is reviewing its operations at National City and Glenwood, Iowa, the only units in the company's possession.

According to the Labor Tribune, the company has purchased three processing plants from Armour Co. and is using the new plants for leverage in an attempt to break a three-year contract with the unions, including United Food and Commercial Workers (Meat-packers) Local 78 at National City.

The Swift plant in National City is only 10 years old and employs about 400 persons, including some Quad-Citizens.

Union workers receive about $10.69 per hour, plus fringe benefits which the company says raise the limit labor cost to $19 per hour.

This area just doesn't need another plant closing and higher unemployment. We urge both sides to remain flexible and understanding of each other's position. Keeping the modern meat plant open and keeping the workers employed, at a reasonable wage scale, should be the top priorities.

Medicare approved for hospices

Secretary of Health and Human Services Margaret M. Heckler made the right decision in issuing rules that authorize federal payments to hospices.

Her action last week provides a new Medicare benefit for the terminally ill. This will give them more flexibility in deciding when to be hospitalized and when to remain at home, where they will be assisted by family members, nurses and doctors.

She said she seeks to "preserve the special quality of the hospice movement," which stresses alleviation of pain and suffering rather than the cure of the illness, after a cure is no longer possible.

Most hospice patients have cancer. The $36 million federal cost in the next three years will total $80 million, $125 million and $160 million (fiscal 1984-85-86). Payments will be $53 a day for routine home care, increased to $156 to $286 daily in specific medical emergencies.

The regulations will provide $27 a day for a patient who must leave home and enter a hospice or the hospice unit of a general hospital. The National Hospice Organization is pleased by the plan but notes that $27 is less than the actual cost of in-patient care, estimated by the federal government at $355 to $469 a day.

The federal benefit will be available to persons who, according to doctors, have a life expectancy of six months or less.

Despite the $365 million price tag, and the aid limit for each hospice patient to $6,500, advocates of the program say that it eventually will save money by permitting people to get most of their care at home rather than in a hospital.

Patients also will benefit from closer contact with their relatives in the final weeks of their lives. And the prospect now is that their families, after the patients die, will face a far smaller debt from the care and treatment.

About 1,200 hospices have been established in the U.S., including Hospice of Madison County. Those certified as complying with federal standards are to begin participating in the federal program in November.

Late school starting unfortunate

It is indeed unfortunate that most Granite City teachers decided this morning not to report to work until a new contract is hammered out with the school board.

There is no reason why school could not begin while talks continue, as is happening in Venice. In Granite City, children are pawns in the intricate chess game between the teachers' union and the school board.

We understand the reasons behind the disagreements and the timing of the negotiations. Neither side can accurately determine how much money there will be from the state until late in the summer, forcing last-minute negotiations over who gets what slice of the pie.

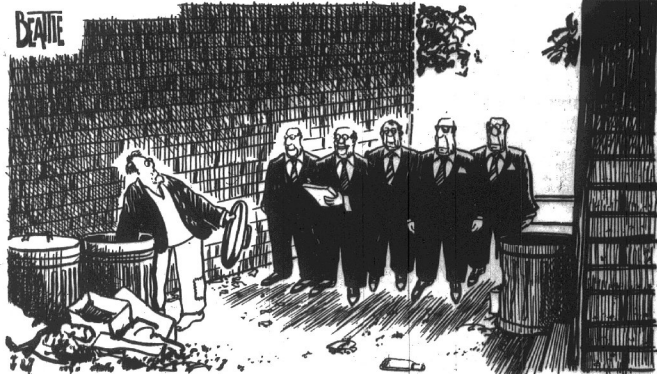

This year there also are difficult negotiations as teachers strive to get as many of the honorably dismissed teachers back to work as possible without slashing their own salaries and, for some, next year's pensions. About 130 teachers remain on dismissal due to the closing of six schools for economic reasons and due to declining student enrollments.

Thus, we understand the reasons for the extra difficulty this year.

We hoped the teachers would report for work this morning, even without a working agreement, and school could begin while negotiations continue. Unfortunately, only about 18 teachers agreed with us and reported this morning for the teachers' meeting.

We hope for a quick resolution of the issues so school can start. We also hope that in upcoming years the basics of new agreements can be hammered out early in the summer, leaving only the final financial figures to be filled in when revenue from the state can be determined.

PATRICIA LARUE

ROBERT LARUE

Recently, President Reagan has been examining the issue of hunger in this country. Residents were asked if they knew anyone in the Quad-City area suffering from hunger or thought such a situation exists in this area.

Patricia LaRue, Granite City

"Yes, it's a problem. I know many different organizations give food to families around Christmas time. Personally, I don't know anyone hungry."

Robert LaRue, Granite City

"Yes, I think there are hungry people. There are people that have next to nothing and some of the unemployed have run out of unemployment benefits. They may have some food, but I doubt that it's adequate."

Isabell Anderson, Granite City

"No, I really don't. I'm not aware of anyone personally. Although I feel that probably there are a lot of such people."

Marvin McGee, Granite City

"Yes, I am personally aware of hunger in this area. Did you see those cheese lines? The food stamp program has been cut down so severely the poor must use what little money they have for rent and then have no money for food."

12 Parents respond to Little League letter

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to the woman who is angry with Little League coaching. As parents of some of the boys on the team, we feel we must speak out in defense of the coach. In regard to the controversial game, there are facts that need to be brought out.

1 — The opposing team put a boy in the game during the bottom of the fifth inning. Park rules state, "all player substitutions must be made no earlier than the top of the fourth or no later than the top of the fifth inning. Failure to comply with this rule will result in forfeiture of that said game." The umpire refused to call the game when this was pointed out to him. When our coach approached the opposing coach about this, his answer was that he was doing it anyway.

2 — A boy taken out of the fourth inning was put back in, in the sixth inning, to allow the substitute to leave for a Cub Scout meeting.

3 — We were losing six to five at the top of the seventh inning. Because the opposing team had last bat, the game should have been over. Instead, the other coach stated the score was tied. Was this so that the boy who was put in at the bottom of the fifth inning could bat? At one point the umpire said that he just wanted to get the game over with. We didn't shake hands because we felt that the other team cheated. We protested the game and won the protest, with the park official backing our coach 100 percent.

In regard to the boy being kicked off the team, the boy's mother was called the next day and was told that the boy was welcome to come back and play on the team. She declined. In fact, the boy was awarded a trophy, just like all the other boys were.

We feel that our head coach has done an excellent job with these boys and at no time has he ever cursed another coach or umpire. He and the other coaches have taken many hours of their own time to work with these boys and have brought them up from a last-place team to the second-place team in three years.

We feel that if there was a bad example set, it was by the other team cheating. We are behind our coaches 100 percent and we thank them for the good work they've done.

Loans double 1982 mark at savings and loans

Illinois savings and loan associations loaned more money during the first six months of this year than during all of 1982, according to the Illinois Savings and Loan League. Additionally, the net deposit increase during the first half of the year was the largest ever recorded for a January through June period.

Thomas K. Maley, president of the Illinois Savings and Loan League, noted that during the first half of this year, associations lent $1.817 billion, while during 1982 total loans closed for the year totaled $1.814 billion. Maley attributed the turnaround in lending to the lower mortgage interest rates and good savings flows prevalent during the first half of this year. During the first six months of last year, Illinois associations loaned $889.8 million, or about half the amount lent during the first half of this year.

Construction loan outlays during 1983's first half totaled $182 million or 18 percent larger than the volume lent during the same period last year. Loans closed for the purchase of completed properties during the period were 101 percent higher than 1982's first half total, reaching $1.3 billion as of the end of June. Loans closed for all other purposes totaled $360.2 million during the first half of this year.

Illinois savings and loan associations have experienced a net savings gain of $3.4 billion since the beginning of the year, according to Maley, who also is chairman of Chicago's Pathway Financial, a Federal association. During the first half of last year deposit balances increased $699 million. The net gain in deposits for the first six months of this year exceeds the previous January through June high, set in 1977, by 68 percent. Total savings outstanding at Illinois thrifts at the end of June stood at $43.9 billion. At the end of June, 33.9 percent of Illinois associations' total deposits were invested in passbook and money market deposit accounts (MMDAs), 62.8 percent were held in certificates of deposits and 3.4 percent were in jumbo certificates (100,000 minimum). At the beginning of the year the distribution was 22.9 percent, 73 percent and 4.1 percent respectively. The increase in MMDA passbook account balances can be attributed to the popular MMDA accounts which were first authorized for issuance in December 1982.

The Illinois Savings and Loan League is the statewide trade association serving the state's 283 savings associations. Total assets of the business in Illinois at the end of June were $59.6 billion.

Funding for new garage

is up two percent, $10,500 more than last year's levy. The budget is up $109,433.

A breakdown of the budget shows $434,272 will be distributed to the township's General Town Fund; $133,400 for the Federal Revenue Sharing Fund, $278,200 for the General Assistance Fund, and $50,000 for the Municipal Retirement Fund.

The General Town Fund expenses include support for administrative officers ($30,000), the tax assessor's and tax collector's office expenses and employees ($201,772) and township hall expenses, plus partial payment for the new garage ($16,000).

The General Assistance Fund pays for its administrators ($78,000), food, clothing, medical and housing expenses for needy ($17,000) and other administrative expenses ($4,200).

The Federal Revenue Sharing Fund supports the van transportation program ($90,500), the director of facilities and recreation ($17,000), senior aides ($6,000), partial payment for the new garage ($16,000), an audit ($2,000) and other expenses.

Besides the costs for the new garage, increases in the budget this year reflect a raise from $6,000 to $10,000 for legal services and $3,500 to $4,000 for the budget audit and $1,500 to $2,000 for the federal-revenue sharing audit.

(Last month, the board reaffirmed the employment of William W. Schooley as township attorney and James Degnan, certified public accountant, as auditor.)

Increases also go to the assessor's staff, $134,000 to $162,000, for the director of the township facilities and recreation, $16,183 to $17,000; transportation director, $16,183 to $17,000; three van drivers, $40,000 to $42,000, and general assistance staff salaries, $74,000 to $78,000.

According to Hagnauer, the township provides 1,500 van trips a month for residents for such tasks as visiting physicians or shopping. He said, however, the vans are not for the exclusive use for seniors citizens.

Juanita Crawley, president of the Senior Citizens' Council, said she would like to have the vans used for occasional senior day-long trips. The vans could not be spared for that length of time, Hagnauer said.

Mrs. Crawley made an appearance at the public hearing preceding the passage of the town budget to appeal for financial help for senior citizens. Money to support bus trips, such as the annual senior apple-picking event, currently comes from the sale of quilts crafted by the seniors, she said.

Money for dances and refreshments for the seniors comes from the quilts sales and canister collections, according to Mrs. Crawley. "We've been begging," she said.

DePew battling for Illini place kicking duties

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

CHAMPAIGN — What are the chances of Daren DePew becoming the starting place kicker for the University of Illinois football team this year?

That's a good question. The problem is that no one has the answer yet. DePew, who is hoping to break into the Fighting Illini starting line-up as a freshman after a successful high school career at Granite City North, isn't really sure of his status.

Chris White, a sophomore competitor for the job and the son of Illinois Head Coach Mike White, has no idea of his status either.

"The players aren't the only people who don't know what the kicking situation is. The coaches don't know either."

Since the kickers have had only four days of practice, Thursday through Sunday, and since the kickers haven't had to perform under pressure situations, the coaches haven't had a chance to evaluate DePew and White yet.

Bill Callahan, the special teams coach for the Illini, believes both kickers are equally talented under non-pressure situations. Callahan is reserving judgment on who is best until he sees them work under pressure.

The final decision will rest on Mike White's hands. Like DePew, Chris White, and Callahan, Coach White has no idea of whom the starting place kicker will be. Nor is he going to give anyone any hints on whom it will be.

"I really can't say anything about the place kicking situation right now, especially since I have a member of my family going for the position," Coach White said. "Daren's a mature freshman, and Chris can handle pressure. We're going to bend over backwards to evaluate them fairly."

"In practice today (Friday) both of them cleared 45 yards with plenty to spare, but we can't really make a decision until they have access to pressure situations, and we have a chance to evaluate their skills, distance and ability to handle pressure. It's going to be a difficult choice from what it looks like so far," Coach White said.

Eventually, the decision will be an easy one once the players are put into pressure situations. Whoever makes the kicks will be the place kicker. Whoever misses the kicks will sit the bench.

"It pretty well takes care of itself," Callahan said.

The situation this year is a perfect one for the Fighting Illini staff. Because both DePew and White are excellent kickers and because of the competition between the two players, Callahan can spend his time refining the kickers' skills rather than motivating them.

"Both of them have great abilities to concentrate on kicking the ball through the goalposts, and the intensity of the two kickers is great. Both of them possess super temperaments and have the ideal personalities for kicking," Callahan said.

"The competition between the two creates its own motivation, and it frees the coaches to work on refinements," he added.

Although the competition between DePew and White is tight, the two have become friends during the first week of practice last week. They have adjoining lockers, and they often compliment each other about their kicks.

"We get along with each very well," DePew said. "We definitely don't hate each other because we're going to have to be together for the next three years. Chris is a very good kicker, and it's going to be tough for me to make it."

Chris White had plenty of respect for DePew. "He's going to be a tough person to beat out. I've seen him in the rookie practices and during our practices, and he's pretty good. The competition is going to make both of us better kickers," White said.

DePew's and White's high school athletic experiences are quite diverse. As a Steeler, DePew not only set the Illinois high school field goal record of 54 yards in 1981, he also scored 180 points on 21 field goals, 45 extra points and 12 touchdowns. He even passed for one touchdown.

DePew was a three-year letterman in football, a four-year letterman in baseball and a two-year letterman in basketball.

White, on the other hand, did not play a single minute of high school football even though he practiced kicking at the end of his junior year. He was an all-star basketball player in high school.

"I really wasn't very good at all when I started. I thought I would play a year here and go on to kick at a smaller college. I worked with Mike Bass a lot, and he was able to help me to kick better," White said.

During the Illini's spring practices, White found he was able to kick the ball for both distance and accuracy. He decided to stay at Illinois.

"I don't think you have to play football for 14 years to be a place kicker," Callahan said. "You find that a lot of kickers have never played football before yet they have done excellent jobs."

"Place kicking is a skill that can be taught, and it can be self-taught through repetitions. Chris is a good kicker," Callahan said.

Callahan isn't sure when the decision on the kickers will be made. He indicated the competition could go into the first two games of the season, both of which are non-conference. The Illini coaching staff feels both games are "pre-season games" for the Big Ten Conference season.

Illinois opens the season at the University of Missouri Sept. 10 and entertains Stanford Sept. 17 at Memorial Stadium in Champaign.

"You don't have to plan who's going to be the placekicker like you do the quarterback," Callahan said. "If both of them appear to be equal, then we plan to alternate them during our first two games. We're going to grade them on how they handle the pressure during a game situation."

Callahan doesn't expect DePew to do any punting at all for the Fighting Illini. First of all, the Illini have two punters, Chris Sigourney and Chad Little, and secondly, Callahan feels punting may interfere with his place kicking abilities.

DePew's two-a-day practice session's are a place a cake compared to what he did at North. DePew no longer has to go through the hitting he once did while playing at both running back and linebacker. During practice, he kicks for one and a half hours a day and works on weights, runs, and snaps on offensive drills.

"It's much lighter than I'm used to, but I knew it was going to be and I've made the adjustments so I can stay in shape," DePew said.

The 6-foot-1, 210 pound DePew has adjusted to life away from Granite City and competing against the head coach's son well so far. His veteran teammates have showed him the ropes of dormitory life at Illinois.

On the first day of rookie practice, DePew wanted to show the coaches his linebacking ability, but he pulled a hip flexor muscle. DePew said he is over the minor injury now.

As for competing again the coach's son, DePew is used to it. He competed against Steeler Head Coach Tom Wyrostek's sons in high school for the kicking position.

"I don't even think about Chris being the coach's son. If I did, it would be just one more pressure on me. I only think of Chris as a competitor for the job I want," DePew said.

"I want to win the position, but if Chris is the better kicker, then he should have the job," he added.

White also wants the best man to have the job. "I want to be the kicker, but my dad and I want what's best for the team. Daren's a good kicker, and it's going to be tough to get the job."

One thing is for sure. Whoever gets the place kicking job will have big shoes to fill. Bass, the Illini place kicker for three years, is the all-time Illini season and career scoring leader.

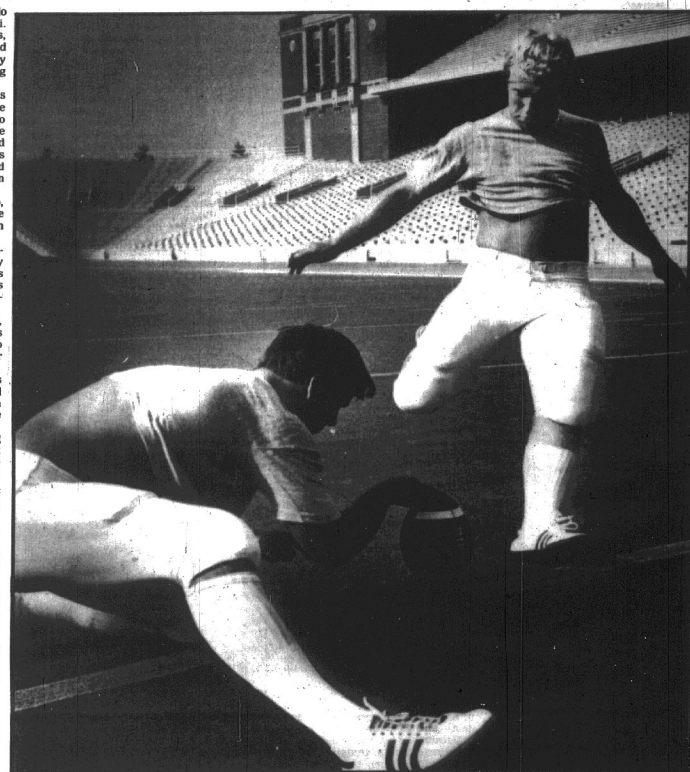

Last year, Bass scored 101 points on 23 field goals and 32 extra points. In his career, he scored 209 points on 40 field goals and 89 extra points.

"Mike showed us how potent a weapon the kicking game was last year. Kickoffs are very important too. Those extra points and field goals meant a lot for us last year as they won a lot of games for us," Callahan said.

The person who can best fit the mold Bass made will get the job as far as Callahan and White are concerned. It's now a matter of who wants it the most.

"I don't have any plans on when a place kicker is going to be named," Coach White said. "We going to see which one's going to kick the best under pressure. The healthy competition between Daren and Chris has to be good for us."

At Wilson Park Sunday

Fish 'n Friends win Women's A Midwest Regional

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER

GRANITE CITY — The state of Indiana monopolized on finals Sunday evening as the Midwest Class A Women's Softball Regional concluded at Wilson Park. In the end, Fish 'n Friends of Indianapolis, Ind., defeated Tri-State of Evansville, Ind., 7-0 to win the first Granite City Class A women's tournament and earn a berth to the national finals Labor Day weekend in Elk Grove, Calif.

Fish 'n Friends, named after Steve, Alan and Tim Fishburn coaches of the team, finished the season with a 49-9 record after winning six to clinch the tournament.

The Indianapolis Metropolitan League winners finished the tournament the only undefeated team. The runners up, Tri-State Turnout, lost twice to F&F. The first time the two teams met, winners bracket championship game, F&F whalloped Tri-State Turnout 15-2.

The two Granite City teams in the tournament, City Temple and the Granite City Merchants, each lost in the second round of the losers' bracket. City Temple managed one victory in the winner's bracket, a 1-0 win over the Kentucky Striders, before losing to the Cincinnati Royals 15-7 in the winners' bracket and the Blazers 2-0 in the loser's bracket.

The Merchants, coached by Don Lloyd, lost the first game of the tournament to the Wildcats, the Indianapolis Metropolitan League runners up, 18-3.

In the losers' bracket, the Merchants tasted success as they defeated the Illinois state champions, Stephenson Grain of Timewell, 4-3 before being eliminated from competition by the Louisville Casuals 10-3.

Briefly, competition was tough.

Lloyd said. "Considering the talent out here this weekend, I think we did great. After all, we beat the Illinois state champions."

"I couldn't believe some of the teams here," Lloyd said. "In our game against the Wildcats, they managed nine straight hits. There was just no defense against them."

Lloyd said. "In our game against the Louisville Casuals, they also thought the competition was tough, but, too, he didn't think his team played up to its potential."

"This was just a bad tournament for us," Johnson began. "We're not hitting the ball like we're capable. And to stay in a tournament like this one, you've got to be hitting your best."

The tournament was the fourth for the City Temple women this year, and the only one they haven't won.

Finishing third in the tournament was the Cincinnati Royals, the Cincinnati Metropolitan League winners. Coming in the fourth was the Louisville, Ky., Casuals. Fish 'n Friends, Tri-State Turnout and the Cincinnati Royals all advance to the national championship.

Ray Hoffmann, organizer of the tournament and assistant vice president of the Illinois Amateur Softball Association, said he was with the way the tournament turned out, but was disappointed that more Granite City players didn't come to watch the tournament.

"It was a good tournament — there were some fine teams and some fine softball was played here this weekend. It's just too bad that more people didn't come out to see it."

During the course of the three-day tournament there was an estimated 500 spectators.

TOURNAMENT ACTION. Verda Dunn of the Elizabethton, Ky., Blazers makes the first half of this double play attempt look easy as she tags second base to put out City Temple's Vicki Smith Sunday afternoon during the Midwest Women's Class A Softball Regionals at Wilson Park. Dunn's throw to first base, however, was not in time for the double killing, but the Blazers went on to win the contest and eliminate City Temple from contention.

Briggs named GCC volleyball coach

By ALAN L. GERSHTEINER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Clabrie Briggs has been named volleyball coach at the Granite City Center, Granite City's fledgling junior college. Dr. Frank Gornick, GCC provost, made the announcement last week.

CLABRIE BRIGGS

released by the Granite City School District in the spring.

A physical education teacher for 11 years in the district — eight years at Grigley Junior High and three years at Mitchell School — she received her bachelor's degree from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in August 1972.

At Grigley, she coached girls' athletics which included cheerleading as well as volleyball. The transition from junior high sports to the college level is one that she is confident will be made easy.

"Basically, coaching is teaching," Mrs. Briggs said. "If you're a good teacher, I believe you can be a good coach, at any level," she said.

Among the assets she brings to the GCC volleyball program, she says, is her enthusiasm and her willingness to work.

"When it was announced that a junior college was coming to Granite City, I immediately thought 'what a great opportunity for Granite City and the area.' I was enthused and I wanted to become a part of it." That's when she applied for the coaching position at the center.

That enthusiasm was apparently evident to Gornick as well.

"Of all the candidates, the thing that came across most of all was her enthusiasm and her eagerness to work with the students and the program," Gornick said.

Although Mrs. Briggs lacked a college or high school volleyball coaching background, Gornick said, her enthusiasm and learning attitude still made her the best candidate.

Mrs. Briggs, admits that not coaching high school or college level volleyball previously may be to her disadvantage, so for that reason she has been working lately with Granite City High School veteran volleyball coach Wilma Schulze.

"Wilma's been helping me a lot," Mrs. Briggs said. "She's done a so much for girls' volleyball and girls' athletics in Granite City. I think Granite City is lucky to have her."

Unfortunately for Mrs. Briggs and the GCC, her appointment comes just weeks before the volleyball season is to begin. That preseason briefly leaves a lot of coaching to do in a short time and even less time to prepare a schedule.

After being named coach last week, Mrs. Briggs has been frantically working to arrange a GCC schedule with surrounding junior colleges.

"Our problem this year will be learning who the talent is and working towards improving and developing that talent," Mrs. Briggs said. "We can't hope for too much this season with the little time we have left before the season begins. But if we can get things started this year, we'll do even better next year."

Nationals romp Chiefs; season ends

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

EDWARDSVILLE — Dennis Gurkin, manager of the Granite City Chiefs, is hoping followers of the baseball team will give the team another year to prove itself.

The Chiefs, which were eliminated from the league playoffs Sunday with 15-1 and 20-1 losses to regular season champion Edwardsville, indicated they will go on for another year despite having the worst record in the league.

"Give us another year, and we're going to be a respectable team. We were competitive with every team in the league except for Edwardsville, but Edwardsville is the best team in the league," Gurkin said.

Despite the possibility of the Inter-City League folding, if it continues or moves to the 3-M League if the Inter-City League folds.

"We have a lot of young people on our team. A good part of our team is 19 years old and younger. The big difference is going to be that 'year of maturity.' It's really going to help them more than anything else, because I think we have the potential for a good team," Gurkin said.

Gurkin is also looking for another strong pitcher and a power hitter if one is available. However, this season is over, and the Chiefs can finally heal their wounds for 1983.

The wounds that hurt the most were those from Edwardsville. The Nationals were the only team that consistently demolished the Chiefs. Although McDonald's of Granite City won every game it played with the Chiefs, they stayed with McDonald's in nearly every game.

"There's no one in the league that can keep up with their hitting," Gurkin said. "Dan Allaria and Mike Robertson can really hit the ball, and they should never let Rusty Burian out of his cage because he's so powerful. Kevin King and Brian Kabbes are also pretty hitters."

"Along with Spanky's and the best two teams in the Montclair League, Edwardsville's one of the best four teams in Southwestern Illinois," Gurkin said. "Everyone in their lineup can hit."

And hit. And hit. And hit. In the two games played Sunday, Edwardsville combined for 34 hits, 15 in the first game and 19 in the second game. Errors aided the Nationals, but the hitting was responsible for most of the damage.

In the first game, Chiefs' pitcher Ken Crawford held Edwardsville to two runs. Granite City appeared to be ready to give Edwardsville a game when Milt Roe singled and scored on a single by Rob Flicker in the third and cut the lead to 2-1.

However, Mike Robertson, a 1980 graduate of Granite City North and an Edwardsville National, took away the Chiefs' momentum with one swing. His solo home run to open the bottom of the third inning started the hitting clinic Edwardsville gave for the rest of the double-header.

In the double-header, Robertson was 7-for-4 with six RBIs. Following Robertson's home run, Dan Allaria doubled and scored on Kevin Kabbes' single to put the Nationals ahead 4-1.

Edwardsville put the Chiefs away in the fourth and fifth innings. In the fourth, Clauson added a two-run homer to cap a five-run inning. The Nationals added three runs in the fifth inning for its final margin.

Meanwhile, Edwardsville pitchers Glen Murphy and Steve Mueller combined for a two-hitter. The only two hits in the game were those picked up by Roe and Flicker in the third inning.

The second game was much worse for the Chiefs, but it didn't start that way. To open the game, Bruce Nation singled, stole second and scored on an error by Dave Krause. Unfortunately for the Chiefs, that was the only run of the game.

The Chiefs committed five errors in the first two innings. Edwardsville added seven hits during those same innings and took a 3-1 lead.

Allaria, who had four hits in the double-header, hit a two-run homer in the second inning, and Bruce Flicker added a solo home run in the sixth inning.

For the Chiefs, Nation went 3-for-4 in the second game. Rich Fletcher was also 3-for-4 for the Nationals.

Edwardsville will be idle next week when McDonald's and Maryville play one nine-inning game at Maryville to decide which team goes into the championship series. Yesterday, Maryville defeated McDonald's 8-4 in the first game, but McDonald's won the second game 8-7 to force a third game.

The winner of next Sunday's game plays Edwardsville Sept. 4 in the first two games of the championship series. If a third game is needed, it will be played Sept. 4 at the other team's diamond.

"The Miler..."

By AL BARNES
of the Press-Record

I truly hope that the readers of this column will forgive me the occasional story of the athletic endeavors of one of his children or that of a grandchild.

Most, if not all of them, are stories which practically all of us have experienced. I've found down through the years that there is probably no new stories, only new people taking part in those stories.

This particular column concerns itself with what I consider an outstanding athletic performance by a young man, who only coincidentally, is my first born son, Alvin Tylford Barnes III, who in the spring of 1984 was a member of the Collinsville High track team and ran the quarter mile.

THE MILER...

The story unfolded as the Kahoks invaded Granite City for a dual meet with the Warriors. I was on hand only because I had just gone to work for the now defunct Associated Retailers and Civic Association as that group's executive director. And, consequently, I could get off work around 4 p.m. to make it out to the meet at Granite City High.

After running his event, my son was asked out of the blue, as it were, to run the mile by the Collinsville coach, Glen Deason.

Young Al (we all now and then, call him Skeets) was surprised but glad to help out. When the mile was "called," he set a blistering pace, more suited for his 440 than the mile, and much to my surprise, was leading the field up until the final five yards when a Granite City sophomore, Joe Schroeder, caught him at the tape.

Schroeder, who went on to post some of the best times in the mile in Illinois prep track history, is now the head of the computing operation for the University of Missouri at Columbia following a brilliant college track career there and in the Big Eight Conference, too.

Now, to explain his losing that mile race back there is 1984, Skeets says jokingly: "It must have been the air from the mill which finally got me." At any rate, as a former pre distance runner myself, I was proud of my first born in his first try at the mile.

McDonald's, Red Sox split Sunday DH

By BELINDA CONLEY
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Sometimes post-season play is the toughest competition of the year. McDonald's baseball team found out just how difficult it can be Sunday as the runner-up in the Inter-City League split a double-header with the Maryville Red Sox in the first round of the playoffs.

Despite McDonald's strong finish in the league, Coach Ray Harris was not confident that his team could beat Maryville, saying before the first game, "I'm not sure about our hitting, we had a hard time against Maryville last week."

Harris' doubt was well founded. McDonald's scattered seven hits and scored only four runs, while Maryville scored eight runs on 11 hits. McDonald's managed to hold the Red Sox to a game, barely squeaking past the Sox 6-7.

Added to Harris' worries is a problem he has faced all season long — his players don't show up for games. McDonald's played with only 10 men Sunday, and Harris thinks the situation will be worse next week. "Several of my guys are leaving to college this week, considering I'm already short-handed, I may not have enough players to play next week."

In the first game, McDonald's seemed to have everything going in their favor for the first five innings. While pitcher Tim Kirksey pitched a barbeque scoreless, his teammates scored four runs.

With two outs in the first, McDonald's John Vrenick homered, putting the team up 1-0.

Jim Draper led off the next inning with a single, went to second on an infield out, stole third and scored on a sacrifice fly by Kaylen Harris.

Ken Wilson broke out of a 6-for-9 slump in the third inning, with a one-out double. Dan Schaus followed with a home run giving McDonald's a 4-0 lead.

In the fifth inning Kirksey ran into trouble. With one out, both Mark Bonebrake and Randy Robbins singled. Randy Wilke reached base on an error to load the bases.

Dave Bell walked, sending Bonebrake home from third and John Russell drove Robbins home with a single.

After Rick Wilke struck out for the second out, Ray Perry doubled up the middle sending home Wilke, Bell, and Russell. The umpire claimed that Russell didn't touch base. Russell's run was called back and he was called out. The three runs that did score were enough to even up the score 4-4.

The game remained tied

Paddler adult party Aug. 27

Paddlers Swim Club, located on Johnson Road, is sponsoring an adult swim party Saturday, Aug. 27, at the club for members and their guests.

The party, which begins at 6:30 p.m. and runs until midnight, will include a barbeque dinner and "oldies but goodies" style music.

The fee for the adult party is $15. Persons may make reservations by calling Paddlers at 876-1802.

until the eighth, when Maryville took the lead. With two out, Dan Hamilton tripled down the left field line. Mark Bonebrake singled to right, sending Hamiltons home.

Vrenick replaced Kirksey on the mound, but didn't fare much better. After Robbins singled to right center, Randy Wilke hit a homerun down the left field line, sending home Bonebrake and Robbins. McDonald's failed to score in the bottom half of the inning and Maryville won 8-4.

The second game went much like the first, only the outcome was different. Maryville started the scoring in the third. Dean Reynolds singled with one out, and Hamiltons, the next batter up, doubled. Both runners scored on a single to right field by Robbins.

Because of the split, McDonald's will face Maryville in a single nine inning game next Sunday in Maryville.

DREW KARANDJEFF
President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: It's obvious to me that in the past few years tremendous strides have been made in increasing and protecting employee pension plans, which is, of course, all well and good. One area is sadly lacking, as far as I'm concerned. When is someone going to come up with a pension plan for the working housewife?

A: There is one, right now. And, a good one. It's called a "Spousal" Individual Retirement Plan, and it is specifically for homemakers. Under the new tax law a wage earner whose wife is a homemaker can make annual contributions of up to $2,500 to a marital IRA. Up to $2,000 can be deposited in either account with the other $250 to the spouse. A homemaker may continue to make contributions in the event of divorce, so long as it was established for at least five years, and contributions had been made for at least three of those five years. Up to $1,125 per year may be contributed from alimony or other income. Your banker will be happy to provide you with all the details on the "working homemaker's retirement plan."

ICC asked to hike phone rates

Illinois Bell has asked the Illinois Commerce Commission for a 10.4 percent increase in company revenues, effective Jan. 1, 1984. The company filed the new rate schedule at the request of the commission. It also includes 25-cent pay phone charges and a rise in rates for the typical Granite City customer from $24.90 to $31 a month.

"While today's request is for rates to be effective at the time of divestiture from AT&T, divestiture is not the reason for this filing," said Thomas L. Cox, Illinois Bell assistant vice president of revenue requirements. "Divestiture only sets a timetable for us to begin charging rates that reflect the influence of competition on our business."

"Our filing today represents the first step in changing our traditional pricing policy of having some services subsidize other services. Our proposal places charges more squarely on those customers who incur the costs."

Cox said that changes don't mean that each customer's total phone bill will increase. Local exchange rates represent about one-third of a typical customer's bill.

"Two-thirds of the charges a customer pays will be determined by the competitive marketplace. Customers will have choices in the telephone equipment they purchase and in the selection of long distance calling services."

"To help our customers control their own costs, we're continuing to offer them options such as local measured service and the opportunity for do-it-yourselfers to install and repair their own inside wiring."

"Today's proposal includes plans to provide a Budget Service, which will be subsidized by revenues from other services," Cox said. "This subsidized service would ensure the preservation of universal telephone service during this transitional period."

Budget Service would be available for $3 per month. Customers would have access to local and long distance calling and would be able to receive an unlimited number of local calls. Each unit of local calling would be 18-cents.

To begin eliminating most other subsidies, Illinois Bell would restructure many of its rates to more accurately reflect costs.

Local rates would be based on costs of providing service in a geographic area. The state would be divided into three geographic bands, with charges for service based on average cost of service in that area.

Typical Granite City customers with local service and the same equipment, services and long distance charges as above would see their telephone bills increase from $24.90 to $31.00. Other requests include a 25-cent coin charge, revisions in the directory assistance charging plan, service connection charges based on time and material costs and increases in some operator-handled calls.

Illinois Bell also proposed adjustments in rates charged to business customers that will cause increases in most business customer's bills.

The company proposed no increases for Custom Calling Services or Touch-Tone line service.

"We've done everything we can to control expenses," Cox said. "We've reduced our work force by 5,000 during the last four years and consolidated work locations. This doesn't include 1,800 people transferred to AT&T earlier in the year."

"But, even with one of the best expense control programs in the business and a productivity level that is among the highest in the telecommunications business, we need to continue providing customers with the service they expect."

Cox also said that the replacement and modernization of telecommunications equipment accounts for about one-fourth of Illinois Bell's expenses every year.

Illinois Bell also requested a higher earnings level. "We need higher earnings to ensure our ability to provide the service our customers expect," Cox said. "A financially strong company means lower costs to its customers."

Investigate firing of shotgun from truck

After receiving a report of two vehicles either chasing each other or colliding with one another, and the noise of a possible shot being fired on Missouri Avenue (former Route 3), near the A.O. Smith plant, at 4:30 p.m. Friday, officers saw a camper truck traveling south on Missouri Avenue and gave chase.

The vehicle turned west onto 25th Street and then left on Ohio Avenue before being halted in the middle of the 2400 block of Ohio.

The driver, Robert L. Johnson, 29, of Woodstock, and a male passenger, 35, were ordered out of the vehicle and placed in separate squad cars. A spent 410-caliber shotgun shell allegedly was recovered from the seat, but no weapon was found in the truck.

Johnson was charged with driving while his license was suspended, reckless driving and not having a Firearm Owner's Identification Card. Officers backtracked the route of the vehicle and allegedly found a 410-gauge shotgun, four live rounds of ammunition and the stock of a rifle in a field near Prather Junior High School.

After the two men were transported to police headquarters, six live rounds of 22-caliber ammunition was found beneath the rear seat of one of the squad cars, it was alleged.

On advice of an assistant state's attorney, both Johnson and his passenger were held pending further investigation.

The driver of a second vehicle allegedly involved in the original incident was not immediately located.

Twenty seven tires were slashed on nine new and used cars parked in the lot at Granite Chrysler-Plymouth, Inc., 19th Street and Grand Avenue. It was reported at 7:30 a.m. Friday.

A Dodge van, owned by William Houser, also parked on the dealership's lot, had two tires slashed, the owner reported.

in the sidewalk area of the tires, reports noted. Darmond Broyles of Rapp Road also reported two tires on his car, parked in front of the dealership, were flattened as he slept in the auto.

Sweet Adelines host guest night

The Collinsville Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., 1983 Region Five champions will hold a guest night Tuesday, at 7:30 at Son-Life Fellowship, Route 159 in Collinsville.
"All area ladies who like fun and friendship and sing first or second soprano are invited to join for an evening of barbershop harmony," a spokesman said.
The chorus won the regional competition in May, 1983, and this entitles it to compete at the international level, November, 1984, in Las Vegas.
The group, which includes Granite Cityans, will be entertained by a chapter quartet, Starburst, 1983, second place regional medalists.
For more information, interested persons may call 345-8974, 931-1409 or contact any Sweet Adeline.

CLOTHES, TOOLS GONE
The pickup truck of Ronald Shoemaker, Alton, was forcibly entered while parked on a lot at 1537 State St., he reported last week. Gone are a suitcase containing $550 worth of men's clothing and a toolbox with assorted wrenches, socket sets and screwdrivers.

Nike lease approved; automaker to move in

The Madison County Board has approved a resolution leasing the abandoned Nike missile base, off Route 4 near Marine, to Mills-Glynn, Inc., for an automobile assembly plant.
The company will build the only mass-produced, two-seat roadster in the nation, creating 120 to 150 jobs, most of which will come from the local labor market, according to company officials.
Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith told the county board that he doubts Mills-Glynn executives will accept the lease as written. But, he said, it is important for the board to go on record as willing to approve an acceptable lease.
Slight changes in wording may be necessary in the lease, but essentially the county's willingness to sign a contract with the company, Smith indicated.
The lease period is for 10 years. Robin Mills, chief operating officer of the firm, said in July that preparation of existing buildings at the site could begin by September.
The company chose this area because of the availability of a skilled work force, capable of producing the roadster. Mills has said that some people hired would be workers who are laid-off from auto assembly firms in St. Louis.
The cap will have a Ford V-8 engine and fiberglass body. It will use American parts, except for a few parts that are not manufactured in this country. Mills had said,

WOMAN BEATEN
LaVonne Armer, 2220 Missouri Ave., was beaten by a man who invaded her home and caused bruises on her left arm and throat, she told police at 12:23 a.m. Friday. She managed to get out of the house and went to her mother's home and when she returned to her own residence found the furniture overturned and groceries thrown about the room.
The police apprehended the suspect and confirmed information he was wanted on a warrant for violation of parole in Texas and is being held for extradition.

'Evening of Gypsy Merrymaking' to be staged Saturday, Aug. 27

Cliff St. James and Dianne White will host Hospice of Madison County's first annual fund raising gala - "An Evening of Gypsy Merrymaking," on Saturday, Aug. 27, at the Meridian ballroom, Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.
"The first fund raising gala for Hospice of Madison County has been quite an undertaking, however it has been very gratifying. The assistance and cooperation from the people of our neighboring towns, has been unbelievable," according to Chairman Rosemarie Lindner.

Cliff St. James and Dianne White of KSD-TV will be working the auction with Terry "Bones" Allan a professional auctioneer. St. James is best known as the co-host of KSD's variety/talk show, "Midday AM." In 1980 he won the St. Louis Emmy Award for Outstanding Achievement for Performer.

Dianne White is one of the women on KSD-TV that wears two hats, that of a weather girl and news reporter and also finds time to be very involved in community activities.
There has been another addition to the gala, George Hudson and his 16-piece orchestra with vocalist Mirsha Evans, will be furnishing big band sounds for dancing, from 9:30-1.
"The goal is that this Hospice event will be serving a dual purpose of raising funds that are so needed, to educate the area of the Hospice concept of care, through community involvement. And, of course, to make it a memorable fun night that people will look forward to each year," the chairman said.

"The objectives that have been attained and the success of his first endeavor will be a direct result of the contributions the 70 person committee have given throughout the county. The festivities will begin at 6 p.m., with cocktails, ethnic music and costumed gypsy dancers and a gypsy caravan with palm readers and psychics and caricature artists," Miss Lindner added.

During the dinner, Dr. John Kendall from SIUE will provide 10 strolling violinist for entertainment. At 8 p.m. the auction will begin with about 100 items such as: a black on white crayon portrait by the Amadee, a hayride for 30-50 people and cookout, a weekend for two at Sheraton Plaza Hotel at Westport with theater tickets, dinner and brunch, a weekend at the Marriott Pavilion with dinner, hot air balloon ride, a portable television set, autographed baseballs, autographed soccer ball and jersey from the Steamers, dinners at Giovanni's and the Media Club, a Stuffed lamp, a quilt and a personal selection of 15 photograph studies by Sister Mary Thomas of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. There will be ice cream, hair styling, manicures and many gift certificates for clothing and services.

DIANNE WHITE

CLIFF ST. JAMES

Some of the consignment items are: Hopper Furs of St. Louis have selected a full length fur coat and a stylish fur coat jacket to be offered at the auction, a hand-crafted Westminster grandfather clock and an authentic roll-top desk and matching chair thoroughly hand-crafted and numbered (a future collector's item), a 21 piece orchestra - Gateway Music.

Anyone who would be interested in donating an item for the auction or purchase tickets, $25 (tax deductible) per person, should contact a committee person or the Hospice office at 798-3399.

Co-Chairman Bob Osborne, of KMOX radio, has made a P.S.A. tape with all the details of the evening and has sent it to the major radio stations of St. Louis.

It was announced by Mark Goldenberg and Elmer Milton of the accounting firm of Financial Planning Center that Master Charge and Visa had been approved for the auction.

This local hospice program which is located in St. Elizabeth Medical Center, has stimulated the interest and support of the senators in the State of Illinois, to the high school students of Granite City, since it was introduced in Madison County in 1979. There have been approximately 300 terminally ill patients and their families aided and supported through the most difficult time they must face in their lifetime, the chairman explained.

The staff and the Board of Directors have assisted in setting up programs, that are now operating in the Illinois area. They have also assisted in a program that was just certified in June that will be serving St. Louis City and County and the St. Charles County, and have also been active on both state and national level, Miss Lindner explained.

Social Security checks Sept. 2

Monthly social security checks which are normally delivered on the third of the month will be delivered on Sept. 2 instead, according to Oliver Holmes, manager of the East Saint Louis Social Security Office.

"Benefit checks are mailed early when the usual delivery date falls on a Saturday, Sunday or legal holiday," Holmes said. "In these instances, the checks are dated and delivered on the first day before the third of the month that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday."

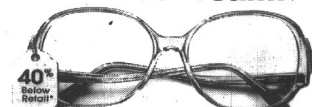

Holmes stated that this procedure helps reduce the problems that people have when they receive their checks and their banks are closed. These situations occur several times during the year, and Holmes advised that SSA would provide similar information about future early check delivery dates as they occur.

Bob Braundmeier of Granite City, three times the bridesmaid but never the bride in the Illinois State Fair hog calling contest, did it again this year, finishing second to 25-year-old Randy Schroeder of Normal, Ill. Not discouraged, Braundmeier was quoted as saying he will be back.

Governor signs bills to protect farmers

Governor James R. Thompson has signed legislation to further protect Illinois grain producers in the event of the financial failure of a grain dealer or grain warehouseman.

"This is another step in the state's effort to protect Illinois farmers from unpredictable turns in the agriculture industry, a problem that very often means losses that are never recovered," said the governor.

"This bill provides an 'insurance policy' for state farmers that is a model program for this type of protection. No other state goes as far as Illinois to shelter farmers from the uncertainties of their business."

"With the signing of this bill, farmers will have the unprecedented assurance that their investment will not be lost when a grain elevator goes bankrupt," he said during an Agriculture Day ceremony at the Illinois State Fair.

Under Senate Bill 800, a $3 million Illinois Grain Insurance Fund will be established through a three-year assessment on licensed grain dealers and warehousemen in Illinois, an amount about equal to the bonding level the grain industry pays to insure stored grain, Thompson said. Additional assessments will be imposed as needed after the third year.

Overseeing the fund will be a Grain Insurance Corporation that will be administered by a five-member board of directors. Serving on the board will be the directors of the departments of Agriculture and Insurance, the chief fiscal officer of the Agriculture Department, the attorney general and a designee selected by the state treasurer.

The measure says that no General Revenue Funds will be used in the initial $3 million outlay but that GRF money could be used if losses exceed the $3 million figure.

In other legislative action, the Governor approved several additional agriculture-related bills. They include:

—Senate Bill 881, a measure that gives banks and other lending institutions the authority to require debtors to list the names of potential farm product buyers. The change will prevent debtors from selling products without informing buyers of the presence of liens on those goods, primarily protecting grain elevator operators and livestock buyers.

—SB 882, a bill with provisions similar to those in SB 881 but one that deals with landlords and tenants rather than lenders and borrowers. The same legislators sponsored both bills.

—House Bill 2080, a bill that repeals ineffective state laws regarding the interstate shipment of Grade A pasteurized milk, combining Grade A milk regulations into one state statute. The legislation also provides a way to form new laws that will conform with federal regulations.

—SB 912, a measure strengthening grain elevator bonding laws through several steps. It eliminates duplicative reporting requirements, gives the Agriculture Department statutory authority for current bonding requirements, requires yearly examination of records, clarifies filing fees, establishes penalties for misrepresentation of records and provides for increased safety for Department elevator inspectors.

Each bill takes effect immediately.

Local music students capture 21 trophies

The 27th annual Music Festival of the Mid-America Music Association was held at the Sheraton Hotel, downtown St. Louis, National School of Music, 2100 Cleveland Blvd., a member of long standing, participated and students came home with high honors.

The association is a non-profit organization interested in youthful musicals. The annual festival is held with the aim of stimulating interest, developing self-control, poise and ability to appear before others. This year 45 studios from eight states sent 1,037 entries. Out of the 916 solo entries, twelve students with the highest scores were chosen to enter an audience of about 2,000 people on Sunday morning. Two of the 12 chosen were Carl McCallister, piano, and Tami Wickham, guitar, of National School of Music with the outstanding score of 100 percent.

National School of Music specializes in teaching young children music, starting them at age four, five, and six in the Musical Kindergarten program. This program teaches music fundamentals. After the completion of the course, they enter private lessons.

This was the case with Elizabeth Sabo, who just graduated from the M. K. program in February and started private lessons with Cyndi Brown. With only five months of lessons, she entered the music contest, with the distinction of being the youngest entry this year. Elizabeth won a trophy with a score of 95 out of a possible 100, and had to memorize two songs perfectly to participate.

Saturday night, students, parents, friends, and judges, crowded into the Sheraton Convention Ballroom to hear the Military Drum Corp from Rogers Music Studio of Kansas City, Mo., and the Top Virtuoso winners. Topping off the evening was talented and witty, Mark Gifford performing on the organ. He is currently the Minister of Music and Youth at the Winstanley Baptist Church in Fairview Heights, and choral director at McKendree College, Lebanon, Ill.

Trophies were awarded on Sunday afternoon to contestants with a score of 95 or higher. There were 21 students of the local school of music who received the awards.

DUI CHARGE FILED

Jerry L. Young, 56, of 2424 Benton St. was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol last week after his auto, southbound on Cleveland Blvd., crossed a curb and sidewalk and damaged the lawn of the home of Frank Milster, 2406 Cleveland.

1966 AUTO STOLEN

The black vinyl and tan 1966 four-door Buick Electra auto of Bernard Stecker, 2162 Adams St., was stolen while parked there last week.

Pfroender Chapter I supervisor

The Granite City School Board has named Gary Pfroender as supervisor of the Chapter's reading and mathematics program in the school district.

He will report to Warren Collins, administrative assistant for elementary schools and director of Chapter I.

Formerly principal of McKinley School, a Chapter I center, Pfroender became principal of Frohardt School when McKinley was closed four years ago.

With five elementary schools closed this summer, Pfroender's service as a principal ended and he had been tentatively assigned to Webster learning center duties.

The board designated Edward Mercer, who was a North High School monitor, as one of the two monitors at Granite City Senior High School. He replaces Rick Singleton, who resigned to become personnel manager of Metro Kirby Co. in Bethalto.

Possible re-employment of more of the honorably dismissed teachers was listed as an agenda item but was not acted upon.

Also listed but not voted on was a cosmetology instruction contract for 1983-84. It was decided on a 5-1 vote to relieve high school department heads of one class hour of teaching each day. The time is to be devoted to departmental duties, including curriculum coordination with junior high schools.

The recommendation was approved by President Donald Stucke, Secretary George Moore, Monroe Worthen, Thomas Mofsky and David Farney. Robert Maxwell disagreed, and Treasurer Dewey Melton was absent while recuperating from surgery.

FANS, COOLER TAKEN
A burglar took two fans, a large toolbox and assorted wrenches last week at the Seibold Concrete Co., 1102 22nd St. Another burglar took a $200 window air conditioner from the home of Silvia Ramsey, 2100 St. Clair Ave. The temperature was 101 degrees.
